Dear Sir

Subject: Practical Result of Green Filter

The members of the Organisation of Hong Kong Drivers have joined the practical test of the environmental product. The product is GF2000 Green Filter, which is supplied by Fullygold Asia Limited. After 14 months and some mileage has been used. Those vehicles have been examined the exhaust emission test. The results have proved a significant reduction in exhaust pollution. The exhaust reduction ratios are between 20% to 50% compare to before installing device. For practice, the engine in better condition can make more improvement.

After installing the Green Filter, our members could not find any damage or side effects to the engines. However, those engines are running smoother and quieter than before. The fuel consumptions have been reduced about 4% to 8%.

For the purpose of being environmental friendly and support the Government actions to reduce air pollution, our Organisation will supply this test information to our members. We encourage our members to install device such as Green Filter to reduce exhaust pollution.

Yours truly,

Organisation of Hong Kong Drivers
